INTRODUCING THE NEW MEMBERS

The University has been very fortunate in filling vacancies and making additions. The men and women selected are well trained and give promise of being well fitted for the work they undertake. The cosmopolitan character of the group is indicated by these facts:—they hold degrees granted by thirty-one different colleges and universities; they have done graduate study in sixteen other institutions; they have had teaching experience in twenty-five high schools and twenty-one colleges.

Alfred S. Adams, Instructor in Mathematics.—Mr. Adams was a member of the University of Maine Class of 1911. He has done graduate work at Teacher's College Columbia University. He has taught in the High Schools at Winter Harbor, Ellsworth, Auburn, Bar Harbor, and Woodland, being Principal at the latter place.

Mark Bailey, Associate Professor of Public Speaking.—Professor Bailey is an A. B. from an A. M. from Michigan. He has taught in Escanaba and Superior High Schools, and been Assistant Professor in Whitman College.

James Baldwin, Professor of Physical Education.—Professor Baldwin takes the place of George L. Rider, who has gone to Washington University, St. Louis. He is a Dartmouth man. He was the successfull Football Coach of last year. Following the football season he remained as a General Assistant to Professor Rider. In addition to the management and oversight of the department, he will have special charge of football and basketball.

Dallas Becker, Instructor in Chemistry.—Mr. Becker is a grdauate of the Western State Normal School and has done university work at the University of Michigan and the University of Wisconsin. He has done chemical and research work for industrial plants in Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Aaron I. Bless, Instructor in Physics.—Mr. Bless is a graduate of Temple University and has done graduate work at the University of Toulouse. He was Laboratory Assistant at Temple University and for the past year was Instructor in Albion College.

Inez Bowler, Assistant Librarian.—Miss Bowler is an A. B. from Colby and a B. S. from Simmons. She has taught in the High Schools at Calais, Maine, Wayland, Mass., and Putnam, Conn. For one year, she was Index and File Clerk at the Boston Navy Yard. For the past year she was Legislative Reference Librarian in the Maine State Library, Augusta.

James S. Brooks, Instructor in Engineering Drawing.—Mr. Brooks has had a great deal of practical experience with municipal, state and business concerns. His college work has been done at the University of Maine. He has served several months overseas in the U. S. Army.

Herbert D. Carrington, Instructor in German.—Dr. Carrington is a Ph. B. from Yale, and a Ph. D. from Heidelberg. His experiences as a teacher includes District and High School work, Instructorships at the Sheffield Scientific School, University of Michigan, and Smith College, a Professorship at the University of Washington, and an Assistant Professorship at Smith.

Florence L. Chandler, Instructor in Bacteriology and Veterinary Science.—Miss Chandler was educated in the Brunswick High School and the University of Maine. She received the degree of B. S. with Animal Industry as her major subject.

Israel Chasman, Instructor in English.—Mr. Chasman holds the degrees of A. B. and A. M. from the University of Texas. With the exception of his thesis, he has completed the work for the Doctor's degree at Cornell. He has taught in the San Antonio High School.

Monte Cross, Instructor in Physical Education.—Mr. Cross has been with us for several years as Baseball Coach. He is to continue with us in the same capacity, but with the more descriptive title of Instructor.

L. H. Dawson, Assistant Professor of Physics.—Professor Dawson received the A. B. from Clark College in 1912. He has done graduate work at Harvard, George Washington, and Clark Universities, receiving the A. M. degree from the last named institution. He served for three years as Laboratory Assistant in the U. S. Bureau of Standards, and for the past year was Instructor in Physics at Lehigh.

Robert Dougall, Instructor in History.—Mr. Dougall is a graduate of McGill University and has done advanced work at Massachusetts Agricultural and Amherst Colleges. He has taught in Macdonald College and Cushing Academy.

Weston S. Evans, Instructor in Civil Engineering.—Mr. Evans was a member of the University of Maine Class of 1918. Since graduation he has been engaged in practical work either in the army or in the engineering department of the Great Northern Paper Company.

Everett J. Felker, Instructor in Civil Engineering.—Mr. Felker is a graduate of the Castine Normal School. He has had wide and successful experience as a teacher. For the past six years he has been Junior Topographer for the U. S. Geological Survey. During the past summer, he has been Assistant Inspector for the Maine Highway Commission.

Howard W. Flack, Associate Professor of Physical Education.—Professor Flack is a graduate of Syracuse University and has done graduate work in Miami, and in the School of Fire at Fort Sill. He has had wide and successful experience as Coach of Track, Basketball, Football. and Baseball. He won a Commission as 1st Lieutenant during the war. Besides assisting in the general work of the department, he will have special charge of the training for track events.

Leigh P. Gardner, Instructor in Animal Industry.—Mr. Gardner received his education at Hebron Academy and the University of Maine, graduating from the latter with the degree of B. S. last June.

Sherman J. Gould, Instructor in Physics.—Mr. Gould is a B. S. from Bates, Class of 1916. He has taught in the Madawaska Training School and has been Principal of the Eliot High School.

Thomas H. Johnson, Instructor in Mathematics.—Mr. Johnson is an A. B. from Amherst College, Class of 1920. He comes with very high recommendations.

Thelma Kellogg, Assistant in English.—Miss Kellogg graduated from the University of Maine in 1918. Since graduating she has been one year Principal of the Vanceboro High School and one year Teacher of English in the Bar Harbor High School. Her high grade work in college won her membership in Phi Kappa Phi.

Ada Bell Kennan, Instructor in Biology.—Miss Kennan is an A. B. from Hillsdale College. She assisted in the Biology Department in Hillsdale College for one year and has had one year's experience in High School Teaching.

John Elton Lodewick, Instructor in Biology.—Mr. Lodewick holds the degrees of B. S. and M. S. from the New York State School of Forestry. He was for one year a Graduate Assistant in Botany in his Alma Mater.

Warren S. Lucas, Instructor in Mathematics.—Mr. Lucas graduated at Maine in 1914. He has done summer graduate work at Maine and Bates. He has been Principal of the High Schools at Grand Lake Stream, Thomaston, and Exeter.

R. W. McCulloch, Assistant Professor of English.—Professor McCulloch holds the degrees of A. B. and A. M. from the University of North Carolina and A. M. from Harvard. He has held college positions as follows: Adjunct Professor of English, Georgia School of Technology, Professor of English, Daniel Baker College, and Acting Professor of English, Sweet Briar College.

J. L. Merrill, Associate Professor of Chemistry.—Professor Merrill is a Ph. B. from Colby and a B. S. from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. For the past twelve years he has been with the U. S. Department of Agriculture doing chemical and investigational work on pulp and paper making.

Gertrude Peabody, Instructor in Home Economics.—Miss Peabody was an honor member of the University of Maine Class of 1920. She was elected to membership in the honor society, Phi Kappa Phi.

Luther J. Pollard, Professor of Education.—Professor Pollard received the A. B. degree from Lawrence College and the M. A. from the University of Wisconsin. He has had experience in the public schools both as Principal and Superintendent. Since 1915, he has been Professor of Education in Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois.

Juliet Poyntz, Assistant Professor of Economics and Sociology.—Professor Poyntz holds an A. B. from Barnard and an A. M. from Columbia. She has done graduate work, one year at Oxford and one year at the London School of Political Economy. She has been Instructor at Barnard and a member of the Extension Staff at Columbia. She has also had experience in social service in Boston and New York.

Frank P. Preti, Instructor in Physical Education.—Mr. Preti needs no introduction. He is one of our own men who has already won many honors for his Alma Mater. He will be a General Assistant but will have special charge of the training of the cross country team.

Conan A. Priest, Instructor in Engineering Drawing.—Mr. Priest is a member of the Senior Class. He is well prepared for the work he undertakes.

Robert J. Schenkel, Assistant Professor of Physical Education.—Professor Schenkel will be the instructor in the required general gymnasium work. He comes from Girard College where he has been Physical Instructor. He saw more than thirteen months' service in France with the U. S. Army. He was educated in the Temple Preparatory School and in Temple University, Philadelphia.

Elmo L. Sherman, Instructor in English.—Mr. Sherman is a B. A. University of Maine 1920. He was a high rank man and won membership in Phi Kappa Phi. He has had experience as a teacher in the Brownfield and Millinocket High Schools and as Student Instructor in the University of Maine.

Geneva F. Smith, Instructor in Physical Education.—Miss Smith will be in charge of Physical Education for women. She is a graduate of Posse Normal School of Boston, and has had two years of successful experience as a teacher.

Irving C. Story, Instructor in English.—Mr. Story is a B. S. from New Hampshire College and an M. A. from Cornell University. During the past year he was Instructor in Freshman English at Dartmouth. He had eleven months of service overseas.

John A. Strausbaugh, Instructor in Spanish and Italian.—Mr. Strausbaugh is one year out of college, having received his A. B. at Dickinson in 1919. During the past year he was Principal of the Richmondville High School.

Harold C. Swift, Instructor in Agronomy.—Mr. Swift graduated from Maine in the class of 1918. He was a high honor man and is a member of Phi Kappa Phi.

Stith Thompson, Associate Professor of English.—Professor Thompson is a B. A. from the University of Wisconsin, an M. A. from the University of California, and Ph. D. from Harvard. He has taught in the high schools of Springfield, Kentucky, and Portland, Oregon. His college experience includes four years as Instructor in the University of Texas, and two years as Professor in Colorado College.

Raymond L. Walkley, Librarian.—Professor Walkley is a Yale man, A. B. 1909, A. M. 1910. He was a high rank man, and was honored by membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He received the degree of B. L. S. from the New York State Library School in 1913. For the past six years he has been an official of the Minneapolis Public Library.

Harry D. Watson, Instructor in Mechanical Engineering.—Mr. Watson is a graduate of the University of Maine, Class of 1920. He entered with the Class of 1918, but was delayed in completing his course because of nearly two years of service in the army.

Charles F. Whitcomb, Instructor in French.—Mr. Whitcomb has had many years successful experience as a teacher. He has taught in the New Sharon, Maine, Bolton, Mass., and Manchester, N. H. High Schools.

Harold C. White, Instructor in Chemistry.—Mr. White graduated from Maine in 1915. Since leaving college he has held important positions with large chemical companies. During the war he served as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Chemical Warfare Service.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

The Experiment Station exists for the purpose of carrying on research, investigation and experiment. No teaching is done by any member of the force. By legislative enactment the experiment station has charge of the investigations at Highmoor and Aroostook Farms and also of the experiments in animal breeding. The chemistry department of the Station does the analytic work for the State Department of Agriculture.

The income of the Station is:

1.	Federal appropriation	$30,000
2.	Special State appropriations	15,000
3.	State Department of Agriculture, about	12,000
4.	Sales from farms and poultry plant, about	8,000

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

Extension work in agriculture and home economics in the State of Maine is conducted by the University of Maine, College of Agriculture, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture under authority granted by the Agricultural Extension Act passed by Congress in 1914 and the acceptance of the provisions of that Act by the State Legislature in 1915. From 1914 to 1920 Extension Work was supported exclusively by Federal and State appropriations.

In 1919 an Act was passed by the State Legislature known as the County Agricultural Extension Act, which authorized the formation of County Farm Bureaus for the purpose of cooperating with the University of Maine in organizing and conducting extension work in the several counties of the State, and provides for finacial cooperation by the counties in its support.

Extension Work is therefore supported by Federal, State and County appropriations, although a major portion of the funds is derived from Federal sources. For the current year the support is distributed as follows: Federal 55.61%, State 23.55%, and County 20.84%.
